

Survivors of Suicide Loss

November Day 23, 2019

Suicide rates have increased nationwide, according to the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Students, faculty, and staff at the University of New Haven School of Health Sciences are working with state-level lawmakers, community organizations, and researchers across Connecticut to address this growing concern. Please join us in discussing solutions and best practices to address this public health issue. Breakfast & a light lunch will be provided upon arrival.

TRANSPORTATION WILL BE PROVIDED.

When: Wednesday, December 11, 2019 | Time: 9:30 AM – 2:30 PM

You must register before the event date. Please call (203) 576-8348 for information.
