E. Validity and Timeliness of Complaints

1. Complaints by Persons Under the Influence of Alcohol or Drugs: When a person who is noticeably intoxicated or impaired wishes to make a complaint, he or she shall be encouraged to wait until the earliest opportunity after he or she has regained sobriety to do so. When the Supervisor determines the circumstances require immediate action, the Supervisor, when available, should take preliminary details of a complaint regardless of the person's sobriety. In that event, the internal affairs designee should re-interview the person after he or she has regained sobriety.

2. Delayed or Untimely Complaints: Complaints of misconduct or malfeasance shall be accepted regardless of when the alleged misconduct or malfeasance is alleged to have occurred. However, the timing of a complaint is one of the circumstances that the agency may consider in determining whether misconduct or malfeasance can be reliably substantiated and, if so, the nature and extent of discipline to be imposed. Where a delay in reporting alleged misconduct may call into question the veracity of the complainant, or has resulted in the loss or destruction of evidence or the inability to locate witnesses due to the passage of time, the facts and circumstances should be detailed in the report.

Although allegations of criminal behavior may be made past the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations and criminal prosecution may be no longer possible, a criminal violator may still be held accountable administratively.

F. Complainant Who Fears Retaliation Associated with Filing a Complaint:

If a complainant expresses fear of retaliation as a result of filing a complaint, they must be assured that those fears will be taken seriously. Complainants should be asked to provide the basis for their concerns, if possible, and the information provided should be noted in the complaint. This will allow the unit, supervisor or internal affairs designee to be aware of these fears and develop reasonable strategies to assist the complainant in dispelling those fears.

G. Complaints Through Alternative Methods

1. If a complaint is received at the office of the Chief of Police the Internal Affairs Commander will be immediately notified. The Internal Affairs Commander will attempt to contact the complainant as soon as possible.
2. Shift Supervisors will ensure that brochures, compliment, and complaint forms are always available at their assigned command, conspicuously displayed, and accessible to the public.
3. Complaints received in writing, or by mail, telephone (TDD), facsimile, electronic mail, or by any other means will be processed as follows:
 - a. The Internal Affairs Commander will assign a file number, following the same procedures described in this policy for obtaining a control number;

- b. Within a reasonable amount of time of receipt of the complaint, the Internal Affairs Commander will contact the Complainant to acknowledge receipt of the complaint and provide the Complainant with the file number and make arrangements for the complainant to swear to the contents in the form;
- c. The Commander of Internal Affairs will determine, based on the complaint, whether the matter will be investigated, or whether the matter will be referred to the subject officer's supervisor through the chain of command for further investigation; and
- d. All complaints shall be investigated in accordance with the policies and procedures of the Bridgeport Police Department (Refer to Misconduct and Citizen Complaint Investigations, and Use of Force Investigation Policies.)
