Governing Structure

The City has a Mayor-City Council form of government. Bridgeport has an elected mayor who serves as the chief executive officer of the municipal government and serves a four-year term. The current mayor is Joseph P. Ganim, who is currently serving his eighth term as mayor. The City Council is the twenty-member legislative body whose two major responsibilities are enacting ordinances necessary to ensure the welfare and good order of the City and adopting the City’s annual budget. Councilmembers are elected by the residents of the ten council districts to represent the concerns, needs, and issues of their constituents, and work to improve the City’s neighborhoods. All Councilmembers serve a two-year term in office.

GENERAL STATEMENT OF DUTIES:

In accordance with Bridgeport Municipal Charter 18, the Deputy Director of Planning and Economic Development shall be appointed by the Director of Planning and Economic Development, with the approval of the Mayor, and serve at the pleasure of the Director. The Office of Planning and Economic Development shall be responsible for neighborhood, community and economic development planning and programs; housing programs; liaison to state and federal agencies dealing with these areas; development of the proposed master plan for the City and revisions thereto; and such other related activities as may be assigned to it from time to time by City management.

This deputy director level position involves various leadership roles and administrative responsibilities including selection, training and performance evaluation of subordinates, plus successful execution of departmental programs and projects. The incumbent assists in the direction of planning and economic development operations and programs through subordinate supervisors with assigned responsibility for specific aspects of the planning and economic development portfolio. The incumbent works under the general direction of the Director of Planning and Economic Development and must be capable of exercising independent judgment, demonstrating business acumen and sound technical knowledge to accomplish program objectives.

This leadership role requires strong analytical and technical abilities and demands fast, but carefully thought-out decisions. The job centers on developing new ideas, systems, and programs, in addition, analyzing and improving established ones. A high level of expertise is expected. A successful candidate will have a style that is purposeful and directed at advancing the city and planning and economic development strategy to improve operations and decision making.

ESSENTIAL DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES:

The essential functions or duties described below are the primary functions and duties of the position. There may be other types of work that may be performed, and the omission of a particular duty or function does not exclude that duty or function from the position provided the duty or function is similar in work, related to the work or logically assigned to the position.
